

THE 1941 MAROON

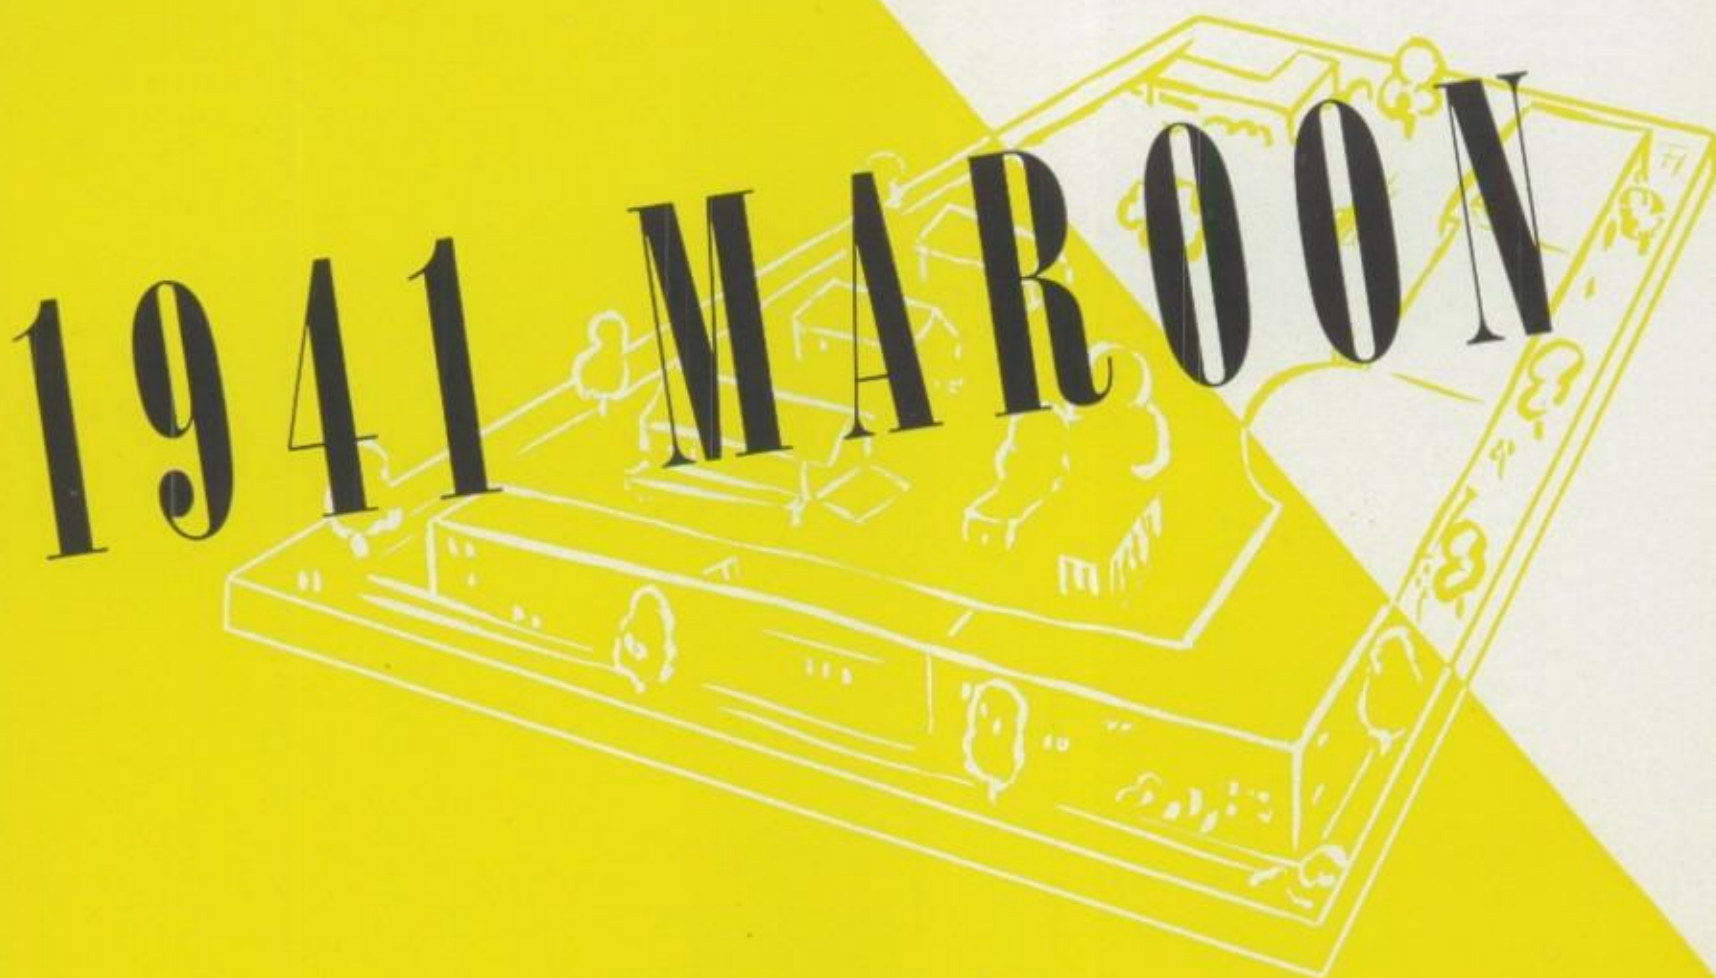

Patricia Owens

THE 1941 MAROON

1941 MAROON

The staff of 1941 offers in this Maroon a presentation of the aim of Elgin High School: to encourage individuality by instilling in each student faith in himself and confidence in his ability to win happiness and success in life by the development of his talents and initiative.

THEY PUT THEIR FAITH IN YOUTH

Foreseeing the need for an advancing educational system, they made sacrifices that we might have the opportunities which only an expanding program can give. While planning a more comprehensive curriculum, they realized that a school must offer adequate training in academic, vocational, and social activities. Consequently, they made provision for enlarging all of these fields.

For their farsightedness in providing the facilities and personnel that would insure a broader educational program for present and future generations, we, the Senior Class, dedicate this 1941 Maroon to the citizens of Elgin.

DESIGN FOR DEVELOPMENT....

This school year marked several new and important advances in the curriculum of Elgin High School. There was a very definite development of an orientation course in the industrial arts department, a Pan-American unit introduced into the American history course, and a year in Spanish added to our foreign languages. Visual Education, also, made a step forward in the progress of our school.

MENTAL PROGRESS

FORWARD! let us have new ideas, initiative, creative ability—that is the cry at Elgin High School, for these are the things which make for progress. Through them we find new discoveries; new inventions; and opportunities for better, happier living. Through them America marches on.

ADMINISTRATION

Guiding students and teachers in making Elgin High School better and more effective are the main duties of our efficient administrators. Mr. O. F. Patterson, our superintendent, and Mr. Merrill R. Stephan, our principal, labor untiringly in suggesting new plans and improving existing conditions in our Alma Mater. We can always rely on their friendly co-operation and understanding.

Mr. T. A. Larsen, our assistant principal, shows a real interest in his work as boys' adviser. Our director of pupil adjustment, Mrs. Nellie Drysdale, helps students to solve their problems by conferring with them personally.

The Student Council, our student-governing body, is very successfully directed by Miss Adah Pratt.

In Memoriam

CHARLES SEROCK

February, 1876—October, 1940

Unassuming, but always dependable; quiet, but always courteous, faithful, and honest—Mr. Charles Serock, our E. H. S. night watchman for thirteen years, deserved the respect which teachers and students had for him. His passing brings sorrow to all of us. Our best tribute to Mr. Serock is in our recognition of his virtues. His was the task of watching while others slept. Now he sleeps while others watch.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

"The best class of Elgin High School!" announced senior class adviser, E. C. Waggoner.

The future class of 1941, numbering two hundred and ninety-five students, entered the doors of E. H. S. in 1937 and soon took active part in athletics, debate, and music, and on the school publications. Marilee Born, Courtney Krich, Dorothy Radke, and Howard Wilbern represented the freshmen on the Student Council.

As our Alma Mater expanded, our class expanded, too; seventy-five mid-year students entered from Abbott School. Ours was the first sophomore class to organize. Milford Rein was chosen president; Dick Dorsey, vice-president; and Mary Lynn Miller, secretary. Student Council members were Tom Bonnike, Marilee Born, Courtney Krich, and Mary Lynn Miller.

Reinforced by one hundred and ten Abbottarians, the juniors, in their navy blue and gold sweaters, accepted new responsibilities. The class was led by Gordon Banks, president; Howard Meadows, vice-president; and Melba Perry, secretary. Milford Rein served as vice-president on the Student Council. The thespian production, "Mystery at Greenfingers," was presented in April. The Junior-Senior Prom brought to a close the activities of our third happy year at high school.

In our last, but most enjoyable year, the officers were: Bob Connell, president; James Butler, vice-president; Virginia Garber, secretary; and Mr. Waggoner, adviser. As evidence of their fine school spirit, every member co-operated in shattering all records for class play attendance when the dramatics hit, "You Can't Take It With You," was staged. Later in the fall on College Day, many of the seniors had helpful conferences with representatives from the different colleges.

Gordon Banks headed the Student Council, and Betty Poole was treasurer. As our high school days came to a close, committees for the special senior activities were named. Class day, the class supper, baccalaureate, the prom, and commencement ended activities in Elgin High School for the four hundred thirty-five students graduating in the largest class in the history of the school.

BOOK TWO

PHYSICAL FITNESS

A TRIANGLE with one side missing is not a triangle, and a person who has never thrilled at being a part of some sport is missing a vital side of life. Our physical fitness helps us to "play the game" as this game of life becomes more complex.

MENTORS

The coaching ability of our athletic directors has placed E. H. S. in top positions in most sports. Without these men to "oil" the parts, the "machinery" of our athletic department could not run so smoothly as it does.

Arthur Roggen, athletic director, has the management of all intramural sports and track. It is due to his efforts also that the gym classes and health classes operate so efficiently.

"Mike" Farroh produces our fast-moving, fighting varsity football squad and coaches our frosh-soph basketball team. His basketball team won the Big Eight championship this year.

John Krafft coaches our important varsity basketball squad. During the football season, he is on the gridiron with the freshman-sophomore football boys as their director. Both of these teams tied for the Big Eight championship.

"Chuck" Morrill lends a hand in training the fellows to become expert players in varsity basketball, varsity football, and track.

Myron Myers shares the big task of training freshman-sophomore football squads to take the place of varsity boys some day.

Each spring on the tennis courts, one sees "Gil" Renner training his team to hit that elusive ball over the net.

Noel Winn has charge of freshman football and basketball and shows our varsity golf team how to shoot low scores on the fairways.

Cliff Adams coaches wrestling, this year introduced for the first time in the history of E.H.S. as an inter-school sport.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast," and the opening of the 1940-41 school year brought with it high hopes for a successful varsity football season.

For the first game of the season, a heavy Glenbard squad invaded Elgin; but the Maroons, led by co-captains Gordon Banks and George Coleman, unleashed a strong running attack to crush the enemy.

Next, Elgin played host to Maine Township High and defeated its team by a large score.

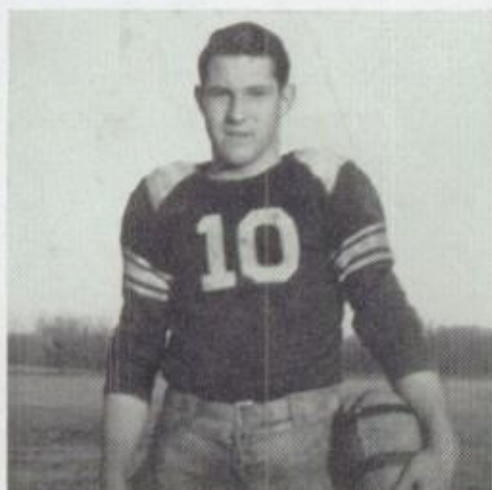

Elgin's hopes for the first Big Eight Varsity Championship were handed an early setback when the Maroons lost a heartbreaker to Joliet. It was in this game that ends Harry Richardson and Leonard Rebenstorf were injured. This further dashed Elgin's title hopes.

Against West Aurora, Rein and Company struck fast and furiously to take an early lead; but late in the game, West Aurora's Blackhawks pushed over for the winning touchdown.

Traveling to LaSalle-Peru, the Maroons expected to lose by a wide margin. They fought the highly touted Cavaliers to a standstill, and emerged with a scoreless tie. George Coleman's fine defensive play was greatly responsible for Elgin's splendid showing.

Returning home, the Maroons lost another close game to the East Aurora Tomcats, by a single touchdown.

Next, Elgin traveled to Freeport. There, sparked by Milt Rein's long runs, they twisted the Pretzels decisively.

At home again, they played West Rockford. This game marked the return of Gordon Banks; and although Banks had not fully recovered from an injury received at LaSalle-Peru, he went into the game and threw a 45-yard pass into the arms of Milt Rein, who raced the remaining distance to the goal for what proved to be the winning score.

Elgin closed the football season by traveling to East Rockford and tying the fighting Rabbits.

This game marked the final appearance of fourteen varsity letter winners. They are Gordon Banks, George Coleman, Harry Richardson, Del Johnson, Milford Rein, the first Elgin player to be so honored, was for the second time chosen the most valuable player on the team and was also selected as All-Conference quarterback. Co-captain George Coleman was selected as an All-Conference tackle; Bob Connell, as center on the All-Conference second team. Junior end, Hawley Michael, was accorded honorable mention.

Although the squad did not make the best record in scores in the history of Elgin High, it was one of the best spirited teams the school has ever seen. Elgin High School has a right to be proud of her fighting Maroons.

FRESHMAN

The year 1940 saw Elgin represented by a Freshman-Sophomore football team for the first time, as the Big Eight Conference, formerly the Big Seven, abolished Lightweight squads and substituted Freshman-Sophomore teams.

John Krafft, former lightweight mentor, coached the Frosh-Sophs to a three-way tie with LaSalle-Peru and West Rockford for the conference championship.

In the season opener, the Frosh-Sophs justified pre-season hopes when they played Glenbard. Although they failed to score, they played a strong defensive game and held the more experienced Glenbard team to a scoreless tie. In the next game with Maine they showed a marked improvement by holding their opponents scoreless.

These two games showed that the Frosh-Sophs had great possibilities, which raised high hopes that a Krafft-coached football team would win its third consecutive conference championship.

Elgin opened the Big Eight campaign in the game against Joliet, and started on the way to the conference title. The team held the opposition scoreless while running wild themselves to swamp the Steelmen by a large margin.

The following week West Aurora invaded Maroon Field; but although the Maroonettes played a fine defensive game, fumbles kept them from scoring.

In the next game Elgin's championship hopes were handed a setback when the favored Maroons bowed to a fighting team of Incas. Returning to Maroon Field, the Maroonettes bounced back into the conference when they unleashed a swift attack and whipped the East Aurora Kittens by a substantial score.

Next the Maroonettes traveled to Freeport; and while they scored only one touchdown, it was all that was needed to turn back the determined Pretzels. Fighting to stay in the championship race, Elgin earned a victory over a strong West Rockford team.

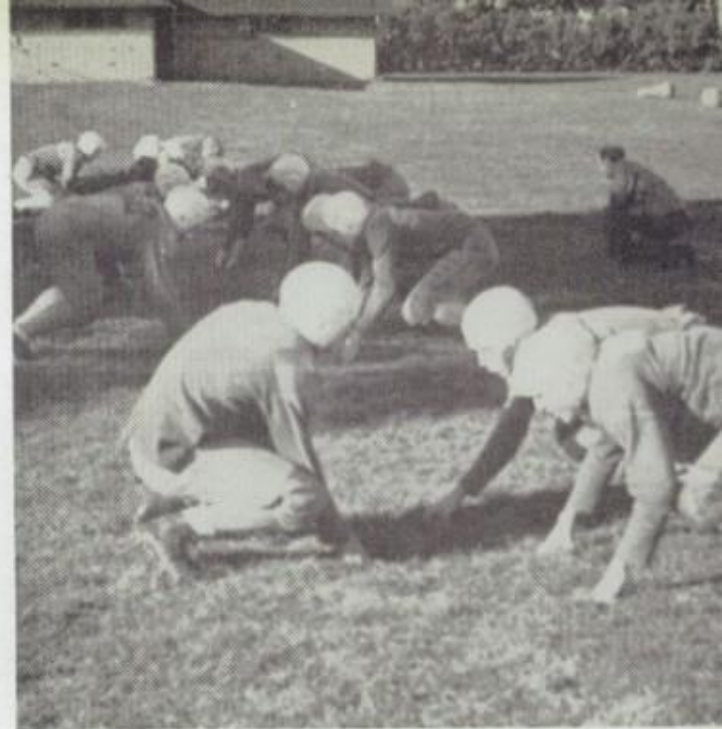

The Frosh-Sophs rang down the curtain on a most successful season by traveling to Rockford and beating East Rockford by a large score, to clinch a share of the Big Eight Championship.

TOP NOTCHERS

The E. H. S. basketball team won another championship, but this time they had to share the honor with East Rockford and Joliet. Although this was the first year that Krafft coached the major team, it was his third championship in four years.

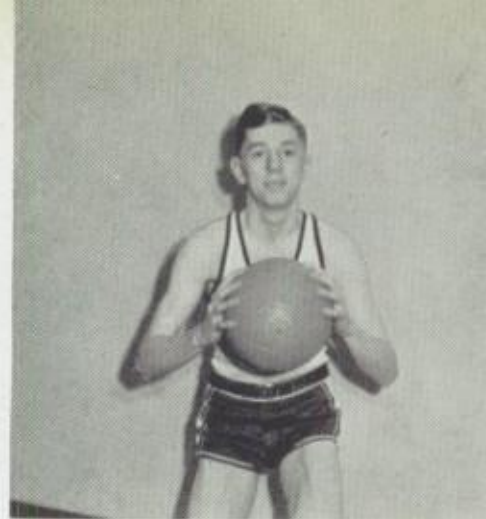

After losing the season opener to West Madison, Wisconsin, the team won nine out of the next twelve games; eight of these in the conference. The only conference defeats came from LaSalle-Peru and Joliet. They beat Joliet in their first encounter. The team also lost to Decatur but defeated the strong Proviso team.

Probably the main reason the team won the championship was through the scoring ability of Paul Chapman. He not only set a new E. H. S. scoring record but also won the "Big Eight" scoring crown by tying the all-time conference record of 140 points in ten games.

CHAMPS

This is the first year that a minor basketball team of Elgin High School has won an undisputed championship. This year is also the first that both teams have won a championship in the same year.

The Frosh-Soph team won ten out of twelve games; eight of these victories were won from conference teams. They were defeated only by Freeport and Joliet, although they won their first game with the latter. The loss to Joliet was the first time in three years that a team coached by Mike Farroh was defeated on the home floor. That defeat ended a string of twenty-two consecutive victories.

The boys all worked together, and with this co-operation, team work, and fine coaching they turned out a successful team. To Dave Kilburn went the honor of being the honorary captain of the Frosh-Soph champs.

COURTS AND FAIRWAYS

In 1940 Elgin's tennis team, coached by Gilbert Renner, had championship possibilities, but it was unable to complete its schedule because school closed a month early. Out of five conference meets, the team won a total of twenty-one matches to its opponents' four.

The 1940 net men were Captain Duane Mull, Captain-elect Dick Price, Charles Lindquist, Jack Traeger, Jim Barker, Roger Livesay, and Lawrence Allison. Ray Strohm, Norman Johnson, and Bob Parrott also saw action.

The outlook for the 1941 season is bright with all but three lettermen returning and all the players improving under Coach Renner's all-seeing eye.

In the fall intramural tournament, Dick Price came out on top.

The Maroon and Cream golfers had a successful season in 1940; but because of the curtailed school year, the team had a shortened schedule and could not compete in the conference tournament.

The Elgin High School golf team was coached by Noel Winn. It was made up of Captain Dick Haligas, Captain-elect Bob Thoren, Walter Durham, Bob Crane, Bill Rasmussen, and Bob Stevens.

On our home courses, the Maroon swingers beat both East Aurora and West Aurora; but in return matches, they lost to these teams. Elgin placed second in the district tournament, the meet being won by Rockford. Walter Durham qualified for the state tournament at Peoria, where he finished 11th.

CINDERS

Elgin's track team, directed by Arthur Roggen and Charles Morrill, won three of the four dual meets, losing to Rockford, the conference champion team, $59\frac{1}{4}$ to $53\frac{3}{4}$. The track results for 1940 were as follows:

April 16	East Aurora—42 points	Elgin—71 points
April 23	Glenbard—45 points	Elgin—73 points
April 27	Rockford— $59\frac{1}{4}$ points	Elgin— $53\frac{3}{4}$ points
May 4	DeKalb—43 points	Elgin—70 points
May 7	Elgin won second place in the County Meet.
May 11	Elgin came in sixth in the District Meet.

Proviso, the state champion team, won first place in the District; Oak Park, second; Morton, third; York, fourth; and La Grange, fifth.

Jack Bryson with 48 points can be rated as one of the greatest dash men in the history of Elgin High School. If he had not been injured during the Rockford meet, he undoubtedly would have set new records in the later track meets. Other outstanding men were Paul Chapman and Milford Rein with 55 and 53 points respectively.

"Milt" Rein, pole vault, broad jump, and relay man, returned as captain of the 1941 team. Other lettermen included Paul Chapman, broad and high jumps; Bill Ziegler, broad jump, dashes, and relay; Charles Schroeder, relay and half mile dash; Cliff Schroeder, dashes; and Mike Sullivan, holder of the county record for low hurdles.

A ten-meet schedule was planned for 1941, and Mr. Roggen and Mr. Morrill predict a successful season.

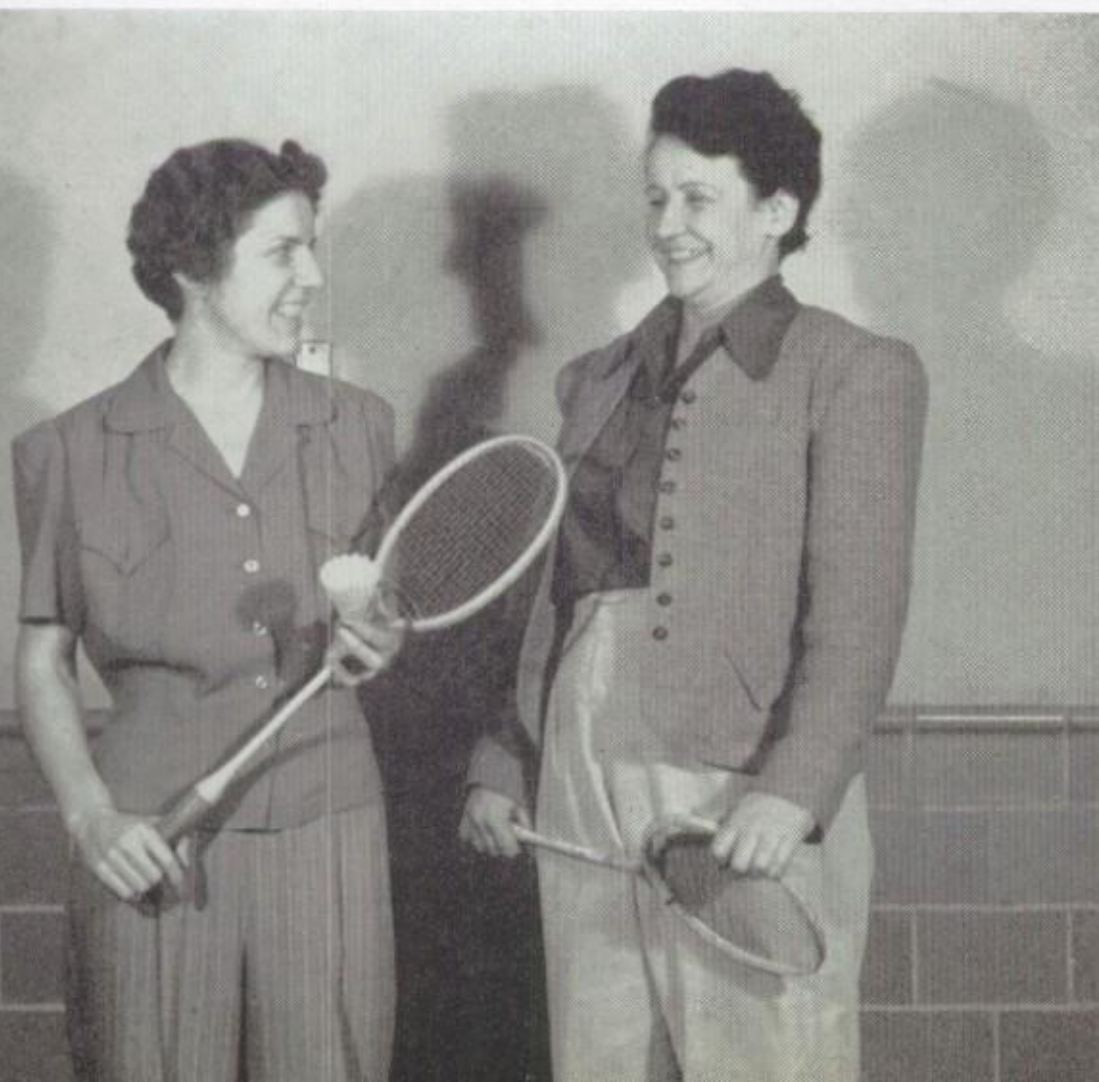

GIRLS SPORTS

From the first day of the school year to the last, a varied and well-planned program of extra-curricular activities unfolds under the excellent leadership of Miss Wilda Logan, director of girls' athletics, and Miss Helen Kettering. The season is officially opened with a mad dash from the high school building to Maroon Field, where the girls can be seen warming up for a swift and exciting game of hockey. The cry of "ground-sticks" is heard, and the game is on.

As the sports program continues, a winter season of basketball is in order. The inter-class tournament and the telegraphic shooting contest are annual events that all the girls look forward to. Whenever "Old Man Winter" smiles on Elgin, the girls take advantage of the weather and turn out for ice skating at Lord's Park and tobogganing at the Elgin Country Club. Many are the spills and thrills, but E. H. S. girls can take it. Other sports offered during the winter season include volleyball, table tennis, captain ball, shuffle board, and badminton. On Friday afternoons table tennis and badminton are enjoyed co-educationally, the venture proving to be a decided success, judging from the large number of boys and girls who take advantage of this ideal recreation.

GIRLS SPORTS

In the fall when the new term begins, girls may be seen dashing to their lockers in the girls' gym, scrambling into their play clothes, and scurrying down to the gym floor for team games. One hears the blast of the whistle as Miss Logan assembles the girls for the season's opening game of basketball. Soon anxious shouts of "Shoot! Shoot!" are heard as someone crouches under the basket with the ball; and the blood-tingling game is on.

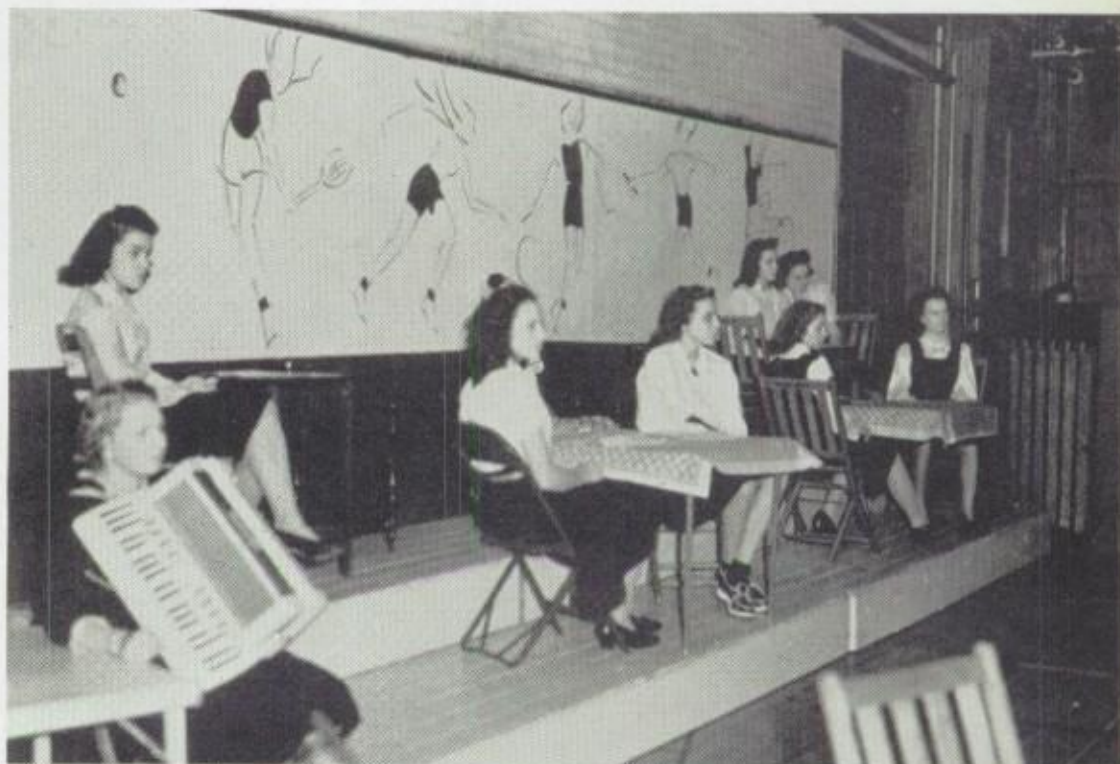

On the other side of the gym a game of volleyball is underway. As the girls become more and more excited and eager to slap the ball over the net, they literally dive over each other to reach the ball first; and then with a show of good sportsmanship, characteristic of our high school girls, they straighten out their teams and continue with this exciting game.

Not only may the girls participate in team sports, but they may also enter individual sports. "Keep your eye on the birdie" is a popular phrase of badminton players as girls challenge one another to play the game. Co-ordination of mind, eye, and arm is a necessary quality, soon developed by good badminton players. Whether beginners or experts, girls always enjoy this game. The "Modern Miss" may also try her hand at table tennis; for this, too, has an important place in girls' sports. The continuous program includes other activities such as acrobatics, shuffle-board, archery, and hockey. In fact, there is something to do in the girls' gym for every girl. The latch-string is out; so come one, come all!

GIRLS FIELDHOUSE

When school re-opens in the fall and the girls are getting back into the swing of sports, the fieldhouse at Maroon Field is officially opened by Miss Logan. Again it becomes the center of sports activities, its walls echoing with the cheerful chatter of the girls as they rest after a few hours of play; while outside, the more energetic carry on with cries of "Strike three! You're out!" and "Batter up." These informal and friendly gatherings, whether out in the field or in the cozy room of the fieldhouse, allow the girls to exchange their ideas on many subjects. A few of the more domestic seniors often fix up a snack for the group in the well-equipped kitchen.

With the coming of spring, the girls once again troop down to Maroon Field, where fun for everyone awaits, in the form of archery for junior and senior girls, and the ever popular baseball and hockey for everyone. Here again sportsmanship and friendly co-operation prevail.

THE MAROON

Under the helpful guidance of Miss Nora Stickling, adviser, and Miss Marjorie Stoffregen, assistant, the Maroon editorial staff manages the entire editing of the annual. The work is divided into four main groups: lay-out, write-up, art, and photography. Student leaders of the editorial staff were Marilyn Daniels and Jim Chapman, co-editors; Marjorie Lucas, Virginia Garber, and Homer Price, associate editors; Bill Rassmussen, head photographer; and Eddie Anderson, head artist.

Under the direction of Frank Briggs and Walter Wilson, business advisers, and George Coleman, manager, the business staff kept up a relentless campaign for patrons and student subscriptions. The business staff included Vincent Forst, Lois Force, Barbara Spitzer, Mary Lynn Miller, Gloria McLean, Barbara Schaaf, Darleen Cook, Lucille Woodrich, Harriet Wilson, Patricia Owens, Patricia Tastad, and Ora Castrup.

THE MIRROR

What goes on here at Elgin High? The students and teachers of E. H. S. have only to read the Mirror to find a highly satisfactory answer, for this weekly paper presents the news of events as they take place. It requires a great deal of co-operative work on the part of staff members to accomplish this.

The staff this year was as follows: Marjorie Nish, editor; Catherine Nelson and Virginia Osborne, associate editors; Evelyn Nerge, Bill Hansing, and Elizabeth Fletcher, editorial assistants; Marilyn Rovelstad and James Lynch, feature editors; Lawrence Allison, sports editor.

Jean Nelson, Charlotte Helper, Lucille Rippberger, Jean Miller, Marilyn Mertes, Dorene Grosmann, Wanda Lee Miller, and Shirley Nelson were staff writers; and Marilee Born, special writer. Mary B. Coleman, Robert Parrott, James Howard, and Dewey Jay were sports writers.

Fern Lagerstrom, Lyravene Hitzeman, Florence Hess, Pamela Ryan, Patt Dreyer, Arleen Rosen, Melva Jean Rakow, Ralph Kever, Eileen Klinger, Juanita Vasquez, Tressa Holzman, John Damisch, Roma Austin, and Dorothy Kohzer were the reporters.

Eddie Anderson, Lois Shamberger, and Dick Clendening were the cartoonists.

Jack Traeger, was business manager; Ellen Hadju and Anne Peven, advertising managers; Anne Steffen, Margene Burns, Shir Lee Mock, Darwin Schmidt, and Jane Schrader, advertising associates. Bob Kromhout was circulation and exchange manager; Bob Dieterich and George Cox, assistants. Gladys Schmidt, Alice Welch, and Virginia Anderson were typists; and Pearce Larson, copy boy.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

The Publications Board supervises the activities of the Maroon and the Mirror. This year they sponsored a novel program, "Bored of Education."

The officers were Merrill R. Stephan, president; Leonard Fisher, vice-president; Miss Margaret Newman, secretary; Walter Wilson, treasurer the first semester; and Frank Briggs, the second.

Other members were Miss Nora Stickling, George Coleman, Marjorie Nish, Marilyn Daniels, James Chapman, and Jack Traeger.

FORENSICS

Again, the E. H. S. forensic squad has had a successful season, both in debate and in individual speech events. Their achievements were especially noteworthy because every member was relatively inexperienced, having never before been in varsity competition. However, this success would not have been possible without the guidance and direction of Roscoe Cartwright, head coach, and Elvin Hedgecock, assistant.

Elgin attended a number of invitational debate and speech tournaments in addition to participating in the Big Eight Conference Debate and Original Speech Tournaments, the Northern Illinois District National Forensic League Tournament, and the Illinois High School Speech League Tournaments, showing splendid records in all.

The squad won second place in the Big Eight Conference with nine victories and three defeats. Their peak performance was reached when they captured the National Forensic League District Championship and defended their title which had been won the previous year.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

In recent years an organization little known to those not connected with forensics has come into prominence in the United States. It is the National Forensic League. The League is the largest national high school speech organization in America, and Roscoe Cartwright is one of the two national directors elected by the five hundred chapters.

The activities sponsored by the N. F. L. are debate; extemporaneous speaking; original oratory; and oratorical, dramatic, and humorous declamations.

Participation in these events merits credit points for each individual; and it is not necessary to win in order to get credit points, as credit is given for participation. These credits are kept on file; and as each member acquires a sufficient number of points, he receives advanced degrees: twenty points gives the Degree of Merit; fifty, the Degree of Honor; one hundred, the Degree of Excellence; and one hundred and fifty, the Degree of Distinction.

ELGIN'S OWN

The Elgin High School Band under the direction of Mr. U. K. Reese is an organization of which we may justly be proud. It has been undefeated in state contests for the past six years, and last year received superior rating at the national contest in Battle Creek, Michigan.

The band is divided into two groups; the first or concert band, and the high school junior band, which plays as a unit and often augments the concert band.

Both the students and the public are given many opportunities to hear the band. It plays at all football games and at the home basketball games; and this year it took part in such civic affairs as the Community Chest Parade, the Defense Day Program, and holiday parades. In addition, the band has three formal concerts every year; the fall concert was held on December 3, the midwinter concert on February 11, and the spring concert on March 25.

New uniforms were purchased this year for the concert band from the proceeds of the Lions Club Show. The band provided music for the show, and the Lions Club members were guests at the midwinter concert.

The officers for the past year were Fred Sell, president; Richard Peterson, vice-president; Ann Pearsall, secretary-treasurer; Robert Dietrich, manager; Ruth Kluender, Joyce Ogden, and Barbara Copely, librarians; and Joyce Ogden, drum major.

HARMONY

THE ORCHESTRA

Along with steady advances in musical experience and knowledge, the E. H. S. orchestra enjoyed an abundance of good times showered upon its members during the past year. Under the competent direction of Miss Marion Laffey, members have made increasing gains in individual skill, resulting in an ever-better orchestra for our school.

The activities for the year were begun in September, with a scavenger hunt and supper. November brought a thrill to two of the E. H. S. orchestra members, who, along with the best players from all the state high school orchestras, were selected to participate in the All-State Orchestra Concert held at Urbana, Illinois. The orchestra played at the Musicians Club and presented a formal concert at the school in December.

A trip to Chicago to hear the Chicago Symphony Orchestra was the main event of January; this was followed in February with participation in the student night program held by the Musicians Club. March brought forth an evening concert; a concert for the student body; and the district contest for orchestra soloists and string ensembles, at Elmhurst. During April the E. H. S. Spring Concert was held, followed by the Fox Valley Music Festival in May.

The new uniform blouses acquired this year marked a step forward in appearance for the members of the orchestra.

The presiding officers of the senior orchestra were: president, Joanne Weed; vice-president, Guy Asher; and secretary-treasurer, Carolyn Bennorth.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

When singers perform without instrumental accompaniment, they are said to sing A Cappella, from the Italian, meaning "in choral style." Those making up the chorus should think and act together as one instrument. The balanced blending of voices, to harmonize with a keen and definite musical inflection; the attaining of a high standard of singing; the achieving of an enthusiastic attitude toward singing and of close co-operation in singing are some of the attributes of vocal training acquired in ensemble, or A Cappella, singing.

The E. H. S. A Cappella choir, composed of about sixty upper-classmen, has been singing to appreciative audiences in Elgin and in surrounding cities, spending a very busy season entertaining at banquets, assemblies, and programs. The choral repertoire includes compositions of varied types.

Clifford Thomas, head of the music department, is the director; and the officers of the choir this year were as follows: president, Bob Stevens; vice-president, Mary Patterson; secretary-treasurer, Janet Stansell.

GLEE CLUBS

A good school music program is vital in promoting love for fine music. It offers opportunities such as group singing of many beautiful songs, listening to the world's best musical compositions, learning to read music, discovering talent, and encouraging the development of talent. Music is fun.

The Treble Choir opens a path to the higher glee clubs and gives experience and training to persons with good voices. This group, with the Aeolians and the Boys' Glee Club, gave a Christmas program at the Old Peoples' Home. During the year the Boys' Glee Club also sang for the orchestra concert and for the Perry and Mathean Literary Societies and various churches and clubs in town. The Mixed Chorus, composed of boys and girls, sings many lovely compositions. All these groups are directed by Miss Elma Engelbrecht.

At several assemblies the student body had the pleasure of listening to the combined voices of the First Girls' Glee Club and the A Cappella Choir. Both groups, directed by Mr. Clifford Thomas, also have appeared in concerts and before civic groups of the community. Together with the Aeolians they took part in the Fox Valley Music Festival on May 19, at Elgin High School.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Miss Adah Pratt, Gordon Banks, Mr. Frank Briggs

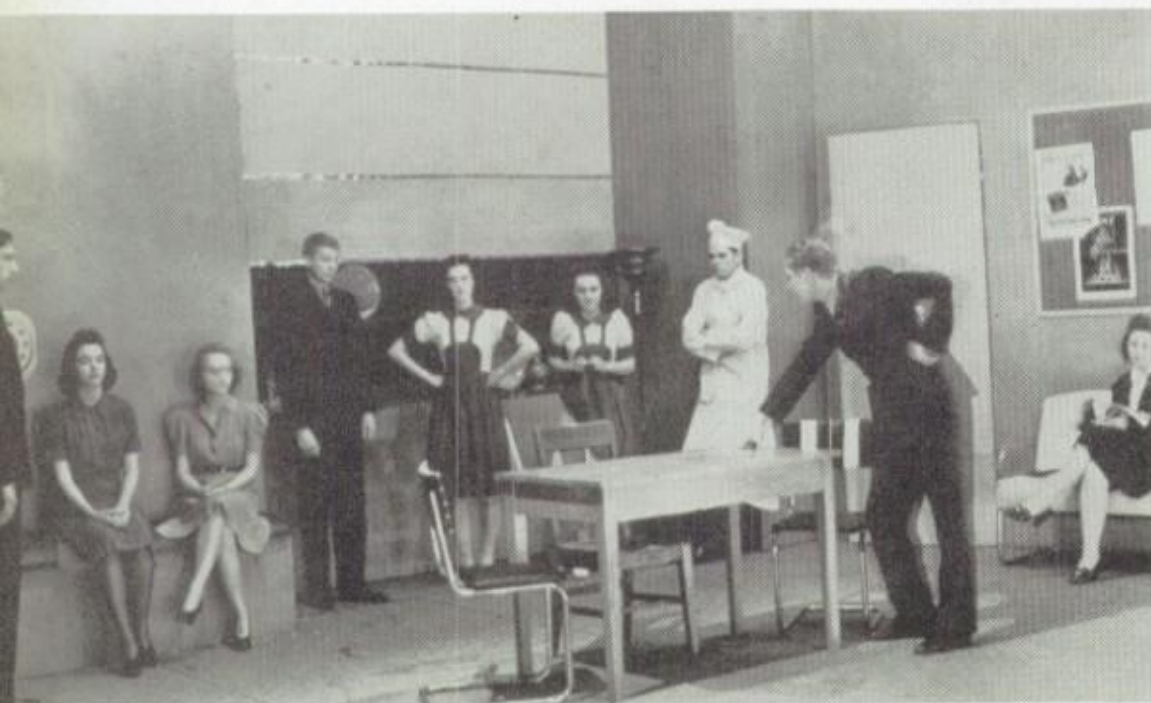

The Student Council is made up of the executive council and representatives selected from every home room. The executive council includes the four runners-up and the presidents of the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes. Members of the executive council this year were Gordon Banks, president; Cecile Eshelman, vice-president; James Waggoner, secretary; Betty Poole, treasurer; and George Coleman, Dick Peterson, Shirley Adams, Jack Traeger, Bob Connell, Dick Apple, and Arlie Rein. The sponsors were Miss Adah Pratt and Mr. Frank Briggs.

There were two main projects of the Council this year; one, promoting and handling the student activity ticket, which included a subscription to the Mirror and to the lyceum programs; the other, joint editing of a student handbook with the journalism classes. The Council has sponsored a dance a month for only high school students, and every dance has proved successful.

The lyceum programs were very interesting; the entertainers were Miss Arlite Smith, Olympic diving champion; Nilkanth R. Chavre, who told about life in India and displayed native Indian costumes; Jesse Phillips Robertson, demonstrator and lecturer on ancient musical instruments; Karl H. Maslowski, naturalist, who lectured and showed technicolor movies of wild life; Georgia Ballina, demonstrator of Latin folk songs and dances; Robert Kazmayer, who gave a talk on Americanism; and Captain Theodore Stern, who gave an actual demonstration of the lie detector.

"MYSTERY AT GREENFINGERS"

"Who killed Cock Robin?" Maybe not this question but many others were answered in the junior play, "Mystery at Greenfingers," a comedy of detection written by J. B. Priestly, which was given on April 26, 1940.

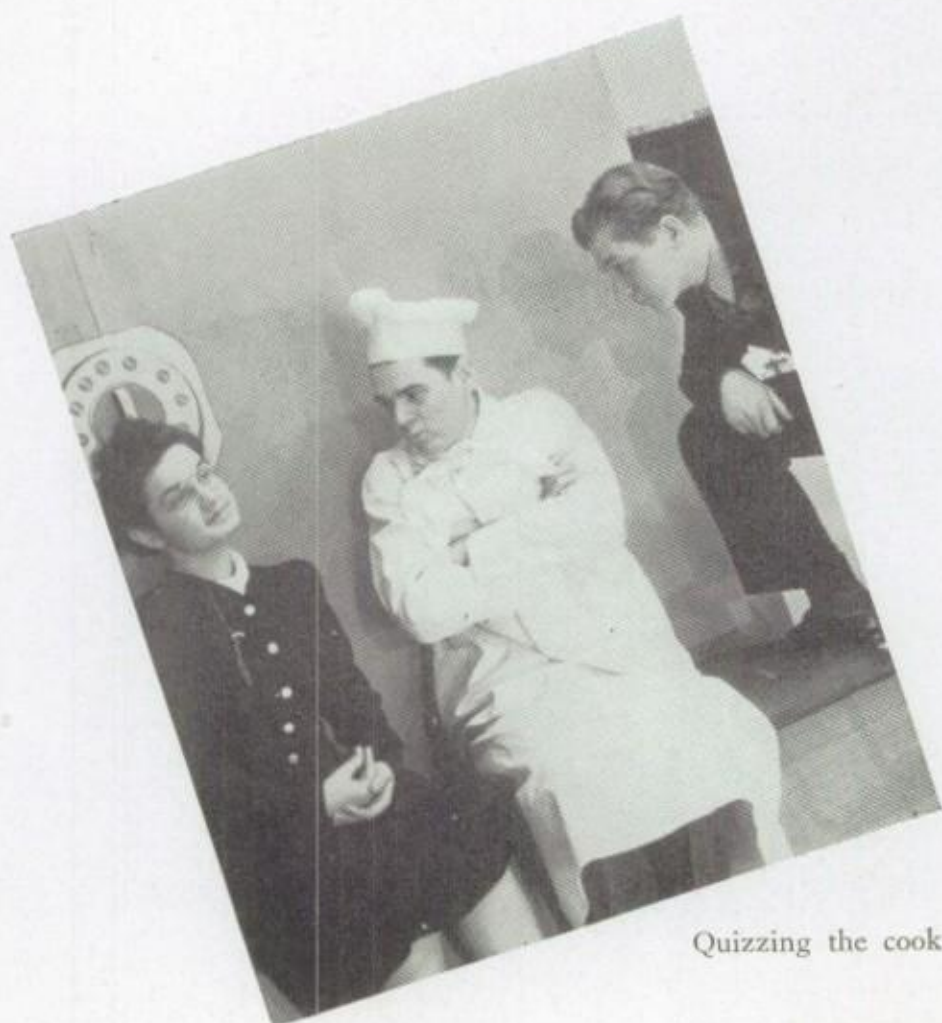

The story centers about an ultra-modern hotel in the Peak District of England. The characters are marooned in the hotel by a snowstorm; shortly they hear shots and find that an old lady has disappeared. Much confusion follows. Ten persons are present in the hotel at the time of the murder. They supply the answers.

The cast included Miss Tracy, a lover of detective novels and sleuthing, Irene Seligson; Edna Sanders, the hotel's bookkeeper and secretary, Helen Scheele; Helen Tennant, the social hostess of the hotel, Dolores Timm; Sally Phillips, the more experienced maid, Phyllis Robinson; Clara Packer, another maid rather dazed by everyone except men, Barbara Spitzer; Mrs. Rose, the hotel staff manageress, Helen Louise Brady; Robert Crowther, the hotel company's detective, James McLaughlin; Fred Poole, the cocktail barman, John Muettertides; Arnold Jordon, hotel chef, Walter McBride; Keith Henley, assistant hotel manager, Robert Pease; and a voice off stage, John Geister.

Credit for a fine performance went not only to the cast but also to the backstage committees for their co-operation.

The play was selected because it was a strictly modern play with a different mystery angle and also because of the short time needed to produce it.

Much credit is due Miss Marge Bier-sach for her excellent directing of the cast.

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU"

"You Can't Take It With You," the comedy by Moss Hart and George Kaufman, was presented by the class of 1941 on November 28th and 29th with great success. When Helen Scheele, who was to act the leading part of Alice, became ill the last day, Dorothy Rovelstad came to the front and carried the part with remarkable success.

The play shows the philosophy of the lovable Sycamore family—you can't take things with you at death; so enjoy yourself now. There is "Grampa" Vanderhof, who refuses to pay his income tax because he doesn't believe in it; Mrs. Sycamore, who writes plays because a typewriter was left there one day; an ex-iceman who dropped in and never left; a strange ex-Russian; and Mr. DePinna and Mr. Sycamore, who experiment with fireworks. There is the love affair of Alice and Tony, son of the wealthy Kirbys, and its outcome.

ON STAGE

The Elgin High School Players' main project for the year was the making of a dramatics workshop out of the old library. All expense involved in the change was paid out of the Players' treasury aided by gifts from the Mask and Bauble and from the Elgin Business and Professional Women's Club.

New and outstanding activities of the year were: a costume dinner party, a social meeting with square dancing and a review of "Life with Father," the production of two of the Three-One-Acts, and two theater parties in Chicago.

The officers were: Mary Muntz, president; Audrey Berlin, vice-president; Mila Johnston, secretary; Walter McBride, treasurer; Dorothy Rovelstad, social chairman; Mary Lois Wilson, program chairman; and Miss Marge Bier-sach, sponsor.

MASK AND BAUBLE

The Mask and Bauble, the dramatics club for the underclassmen, is sponsored by Miss Helen Jocelyn and Miss Mabel Engelbrecht. The student officers this year were Charles Peterson, president; Francis Schumacher, vice-president; Shirley Lawrence, secretary; and Shirley Ohms, treasurer.

The objectives of this dramatics club are to make possible the study of the theater, as well as to teach students more about different phases of stage work, such as acting and make-up. The members also study the various kinds of plays, impersonate people, and give group and individual pantomimes. Besides this, the members found time to present one of the Three-One-Acts, "Call Her Oscar," and to plan a successful social evening in the gym.

LEGENDS AND LEDGERS

LITERATURE CLUBS

To develop in the students a deeper appreciation of fine literature, by doing things they like to do but may not do in English classes—this is the purpose of the Junior and Senior Literature Clubs.

Attending a stage performance in Chicago, caroling at Christmas time, and having a party and joint Christmas program were three special activities enjoyed by the members of both clubs during the past year.

Miss Elma Engelbrecht heads the Senior Literature Club; and Miss Marjorie Stoffregen, the Junior Literature Club.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The aim of the Commercial Club is to bring together socially those students who are interested in the business field. Membership is open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who are taking at least one commercial subject. This year the club completed a project started several years ago, the purchase of a mimeoscope. "The Business Whirl," a monthly newspaper, was also edited by members.

Under the able sponsorship of Mr. George Peck, the following students served as officers: Dorothy Dierking, president; Gladys Carr, vice-president; Bessie Cordogan, secretary; and Eileen Ball, treasurer.

PROPS AND CROPS

AERO CLUB

The thrills and chills, stories and glories of aeronautics hold an attraction for young people having a mind for romance and excitement. The E. H. S. Aero Club helps develop this attraction into real interest by making flying models, visiting airports, and listening to aviation talks.

The meetings feature model airplane demonstrations, reports by the members, and aviation movies. This year the club sponsored two outdoor model flying contests and, with the Elgin Y. M. C. A., it co-sponsored an aviation day program held in the Y boys' division. During the second semester a training program was followed on the fundamentals of aviation and the recent developments in the airplane industry.

An innovation this year was the admission of girls to club membership. The officers for the first semester were Charles Brackett, Jack Zimmerly, and Virginia Handy, who were president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, respectively. The second semester officers were: president, Charles Brackett; vice-president, Bud Roberts; secretary-treasurer, Marilyn Porter.

"Oats, peas, beans, and barley grow." The question now is, how do they grow? Don't fret or worry; ask the Future Farmers of America.

The Elgin chapter won a number of prizes this year, one of which was awarded to two of its members for the neatest exhibit in the Elgin Agricultural Fair. The chapter has encouraged the raising of better livestock by the purchase and farming out of a pure-bred animal. An attraction of the year was the annual Parent and Son F. F. A. Banquet, which is always looked forward to as an interesting and enjoyable affair.

A representative of the Elgin chapter participated in a sectional F. F. A. public speaking contest.

A livestock judging team from Elgin has for the last two years participated in a Northeastern Illinois high school judging contest. The Elgin team, participating in the spring of 1940, carried away top honors.

TACKLE AND TARGET

IZAACK WALTON

With the rapid disappearance of our wild life, the Izaak Walton League of America has been established to study methods of preserving nature's children and to carry on programs by which all types of wild life may be re-established in woodlands and streams.

With these ideals and purposes in mind, a group of Elgin High School students has focused attention upon itself by its affiliation with and membership in the Izaak Walton League of America. Under the able supervision of Mr. Adams, their adviser, and through their own initiative, the members have carried out their part of the program.

Their greatest achievement for this year was beautifying the school by planting ivy vines.

RIFLE CLUB

The E. H. S. Rifle Club, in good standing with the National Rifle Association, is under the supervision of Kenneth Montgomery.

The purpose of the club is to teach its members the care and use of firearms, good sportsmanship, and accuracy. Safety precautions are stressed at all times. At their weekly meetings, the boys practice marksmanship in the rifle range in the north wing of the new building. Although the members must furnish all their ammunition, the club has its own rifles, telescopes, and targets.

The organization had that capable sharp shooter, James McLaughlin, as its president and Frank Swanson as its secretary-treasurer during this past year.

FACTS AND FIGURES

GIRLS SCIENCE CLUB

How do textiles obtain their beautiful and varied colors? What kinds of crystals are formed by the many different chemicals? The answers to these and similar questions are what the members of the Girls Science Club are interested in learning. Through the club's activities the girls increase their practical knowledge of chemistry and physics, and follow the progress of science today.

During the past year club members learned how to use the analytical balance, made chemical smoke rings, dyed cloth, and made soap. They also worked with crystals and studied their formation under the microscope. A social highlight of the year was the popcorn party in the chemistry laboratory.

Meetings are held twice a month, and a committee appointed by the group plans the activities for each meeting. The Girls Science Club is a small but active organization under the guidance of its faculty sponsor, Gilbert Renner.

MATH CLUB

The purpose of the Mathematics Club is to further the interest of the student in the mathematics of the modern scientific world and to aid him in enjoying activities and recreation of a mathematical nature. One activity the club entered into was a detailed study of the slide rule and its uses; another was the study of the stories and locations of many stars and constellations, with the aid of the school's telescope.

Among other things, the members worked puzzles, played mathematical games, and used a simple transit which was presented to the mathematics department by the club last year. Further interesting activities of the club were a trip to the Elgin National Watch Factory Observatory and a party.

The Mathematics Club is under the sponsorship of Miss Hortense Wilson and Miss Mary Peters, and it is open to anyone who is taking mathematics or who is interested in mathematics.

The officers this year were: president, Robert Tornquist; vice-president, Warren Johnson; secretary-treasurer, Charlotte Dittman.

ROMANCE IN LANGUAGE

Inter Nos

In its meetings, the Latin Club presents educational material in a delightful manner. Through student-directed programs, ancient Rome is made to live again in the minds of the members.

During the past year a variety of entertaining programs were given, outstanding among which was a skit presented by one of the Latin classes. An interesting event was the singing of carols in the halls at Christmas time.

The sponsor of the club is Miss Hazel Linkfield, who is assisted by Miss Lillian Taylor.

Der Deutsche Verein

The German Club's most interesting activity this year was the Christmas dinner, at which time German customs prevailed in music and program. Der Weihnachtsmann (Santa Claus) brought gifts for all.

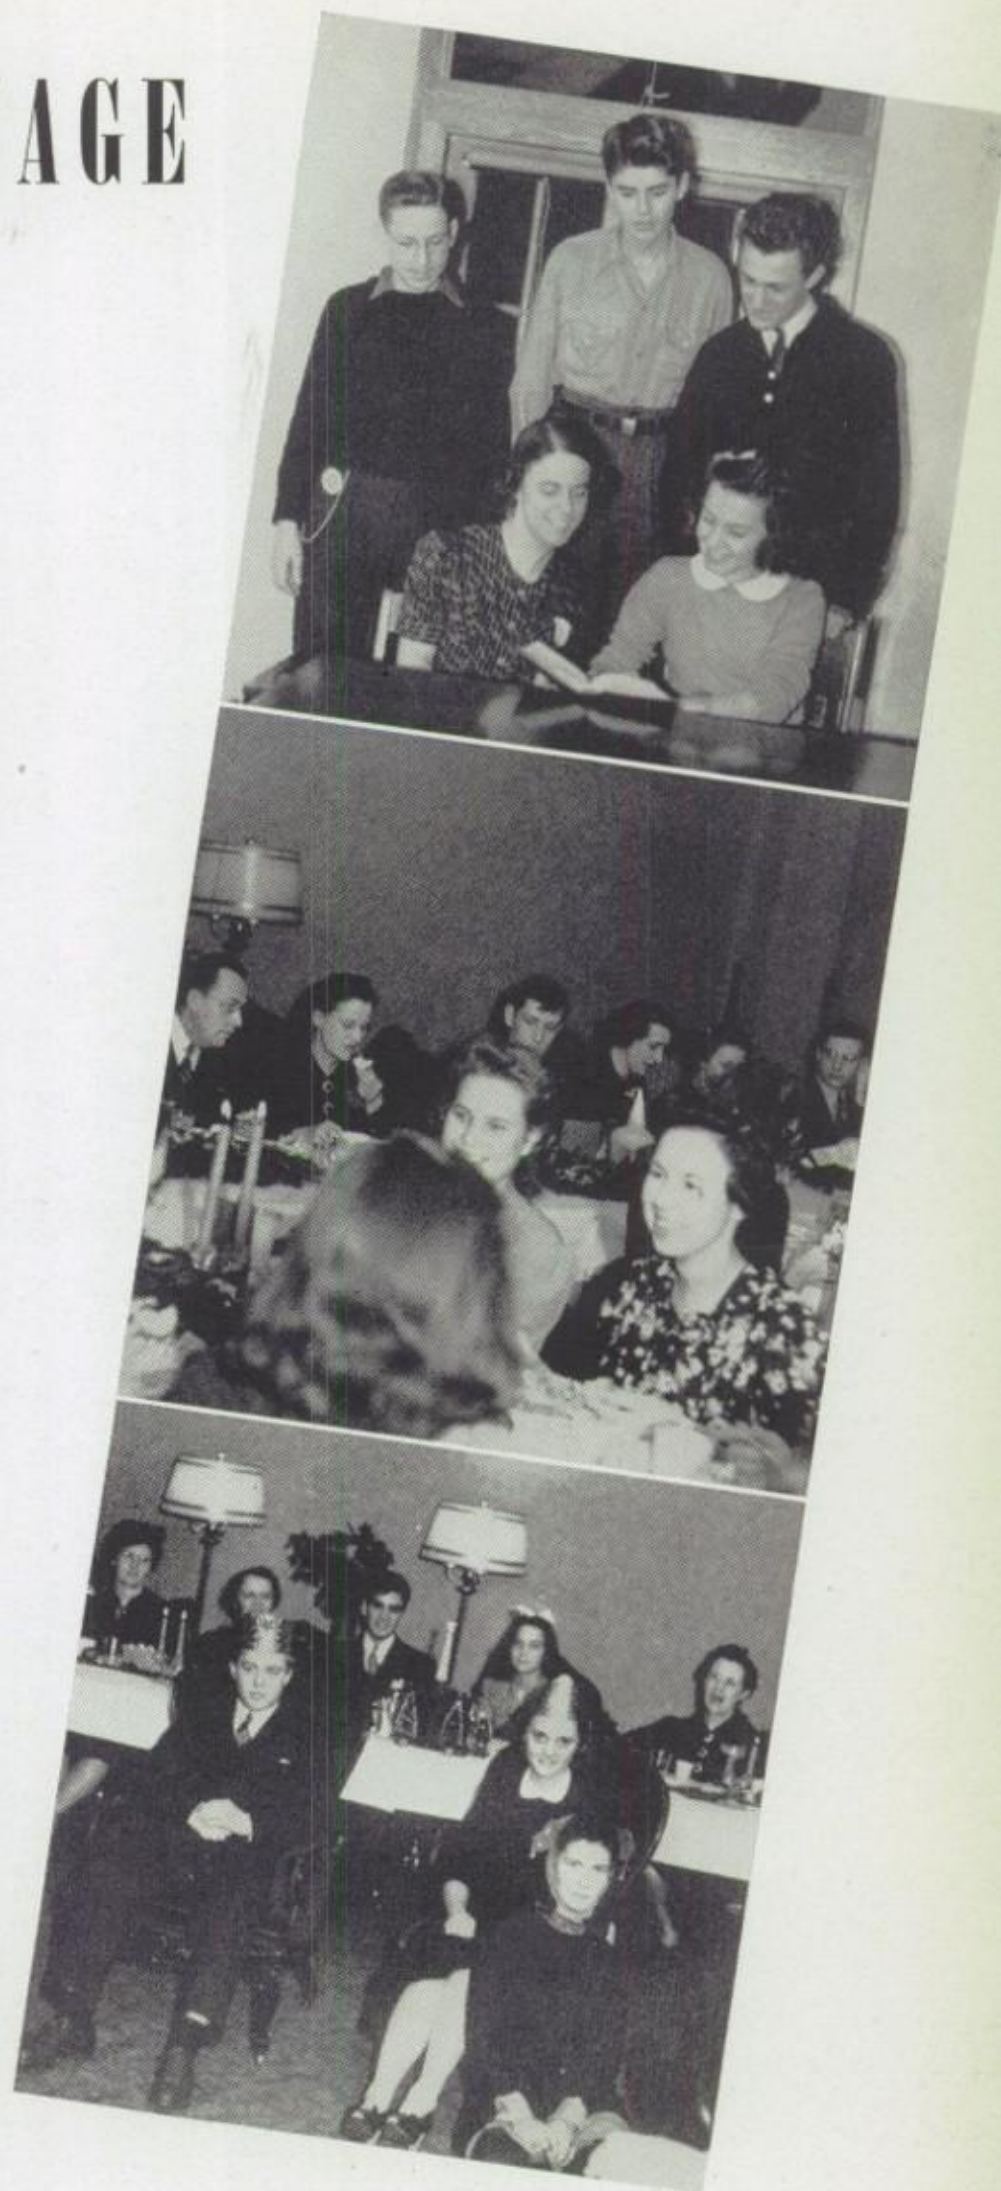

Club programs included speakers, music, and movies. Special recognition was given to the five hundredth anniversary of Johannes Gutenberg. Members participated in the all-language club party and won first place in the Pep Parade.

The president was Raymond Strohm; vice-president, Frances Page; secretary, Carolyn Bennorth; treasurer, Lois Force, and sponsor, Miss Mable Engelbrecht.

Le Cercle Francais

The aim of "Le Cercle Francais" is for members to learn more about French life, customs, and arts. Throughout the year the social life of members was enriched by various activities, among which were programs at the regular meetings, the annual French Club banquet at which the customs of Twelfth Night were observed, participation in the Pep Parade, and the singing of Christmas carols in the corridors at Christmas time.

This year's officers were: Leonard Fisher, president; Anne Jones, vice-president; Patricia Cosgrove, secretary; Robert Brown, treasurer; Marjorie Lucas, social chairman, and Miss Anne Craig, sponsor.

SNAPS AND SNACKS

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The Photography Club, under the sponsorship of Robert Winn, proves very interesting to camera "fans" in our school. Lectures were given this year by professionals, concerning photographic apparatus; movie series were presented; and picture-taking contests were held in which the best "shots" were rewarded with prizes. Discussions were carried on so that experienced members might relate their problems and remedies to the beginners. Student-taken pictures were turned in at each meeting and commented upon.

Members range from persons having only inexpensive box cameras to those possessing valuable and complex equipment. When the new dark room becomes a reality, the club will be able to offer valuable information to those interested in developing and printing pictures.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Aside from the satisfaction gained through concocting delicious pastries, the Home Economics Club members have gained practical experience from the work entailed, and much benefit from interesting social-educational activities. These experiences are a valuable asset to future homemakers.

As is customary, the club's main project was centered on a contribution to the home economics department. This year the department has been expanded to include a group of home management rooms; two foods laboratories, one of which is set up in unit kitchens; two clothing laboratories with fitting rooms; and the new cafeteria.

Among the many interesting programs enjoyed by the club were talks on health and personality, and demonstrations of Christmas dainties and of sewing machine attachments.

Ice carnivals, playdays, mother-and-daughter teas, and sports tournaments all help to make up the interesting year's program of the Girls Athletic Association.

This organization extends a hand of welcome to all high school girl entrants, especially those interested in athletics. Awards are given on the basis of participation, health, sportsmanship, and athletic proficiency; and they are cherished by all who receive them.

This year Mary Ann Sensor was president. Other officers were Cecile Eshelman, first vice-president; Doris Helm, second vice-president; Margaret Daly, third vice-president; Audrey Berlin, recording secretary; Shirley Barnwell, corresponding secretary. Committee chairmen were Ann Pearsall, Rhoda Grupe, Frances Plath, Dorothy Rovelstad, Betty Poole, Delores Grupe, and Mary Patterson.

Social talent and outside speakers are presented by the G. A. A. at the regular monthly meetings. The Tea-Time Minstrel proved most entertaining, with its humor and its musical selections.

This enthusiastic organization of five hundred members is sponsored by Miss Wilda Logan and Miss Helen Kettering, whose fine cooperation and assistance have made the year so successful.

The season of 1940-41 marked a milestone in the history of the G. A. A. Elgin, along with four other charter members, received a State certificate for belonging to the Illinois League of High School Girls Athletic Association for the past twenty years.

Sponsor	Arthur Roggen

One of the most popular and influential organizations in Elgin High School is the "E" Club. Membership in this group is open to any boy who has won an athletic monogram.

The purpose of this organization is to promote athletics in the school, to afford the monogram men a voice in the administration of athletics, to foster good sportsmanship, to encourage the development of a proper school spirit in the student body, and to perpetuate the symbols for which the monogram stands in order that it may be worthy of the school it represents.

The outstanding activities of the "E" Club during the past year were ushering at the basketball games, running the check room, and officiating at track meets. The club also gave the athletic department a much needed wrestling mat. The annual initiation of new members in the fall is an event always eagerly awaited by the entire school.

HI-Y AND TRI-Y

Of all the organizations which give young men the chance to show their capacity for leadership, the Hi-Y is one of the foremost. As it has for its aim the preservation and maintenance of high standards of Christian character throughout the school and community, one may easily realize the extent of the programs which such an organization might undertake. Exercising leadership, however, is only one of the many advantages the Hi-Y has to offer; fellowship is another, created among the members through a friendly atmosphere. These, then, and many more, are the profits which have been reaped from the Hi-Y through the investment of a little interest and time by its members.

To encourage spiritual, physical, and mental development is the aim of the Tri-Y.

Two clubs are organized for the benefit of all girls in high school; the Junior Tri-Y being composed of freshman and sophomore girls, the Senior Tri-Y of juniors and seniors. Both clubs are affiliated with the local Y. W. C. A. This year the girls rendered fine service to the community by distributing Thanksgiving baskets, and giving programs for "shut-ins."

The present adviser is Mrs. Melanie Dasler assisted by Miss Cleora Johnson and Miss Marjorie Stoffregen. Senior officers include Marjorie Lucas, Virginia Garber, Anne King, and Lorraine Scott; officers of the Junior club are Shirley Laurence, Marion Rahn, Lucille Rippberger, and Fern Schoonhoven.
